

Michael Jarasitis, CFA

Pension Strategist

Fidelity Investments

Michael Jarasitis is a pension strategist in the Fidelity Institutional group at Fidelity Investments. Fidelity Investments is a leading provider of investment management, retirement planning, portfolio guidance, brokerage, benefits outsourcing, and other financial products and services to institutions, financial intermediaries, and individuals.

In this role, Mr. Jarasitis works closely with corporate defined benefit plans to develop and execute custom de-risking solutions. He also provides capital market perspectives and represents the investment process in the marketplace.

Prior to assuming his current position in 2019, Mr. Jarasitis was an investment director responsible for performing ALM analysis, working closely with the strategists to develop de-risking strategy recommendations and bespoke LDI solutions. Prior to that role, he was a product manager in the Fixed Income division focused on institutional investment grade bond strategies, including those on the LDI platform. Before joining the Fixed Income division in 2010, Mr. Jarasitis spent five years at Strategic Advisors, Inc., where he was focused on portfolio analysis and client communications for multi-asset class managed account solutions.

Prior to joining Fidelity in 2005, Mr. Jarasitis spent nearly three years at Putnam Investments in marketing and product management roles within their Global Institutional Management group.

Mr. Jarasitis earned his master of science in economics from University College London and his bachelor of science in business administration from the University of New Hampshire. He is also a CFA® charterholder.

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation is offered by the CFA Institute. To obtain the CFA charter, candidates must pass three exams demonstrating their competence, integrity, and extensive knowledge in accounting, ethical and professional standards, economics, portfolio management, and security analysis, and must also have at least 4,000 hours of qualifying work experience completed in a minimum of 36 months, among other requirements. CFA® is a trademark owned by CFA Institute.
