

Mark McEachern

Head of Fidelity Institutional Technology
Fidelity Investments

Mark McEachern is head of Technology for Fidelity Institutional® (FI). Fidelity Institutional is a division of Fidelity Investments that offers investment insights, strategies, and solutions, as well as trading services to a wide range of wealth management firms and institutional investors. Fidelity Investments is a leading provider of investment management, retirement planning, portfolio guidance, brokerage, benefits outsourcing, and other financial products and services to institutions, financial intermediaries, and individuals.

In this role, Mr. McEachern is responsible for leading the technology team that supports Fidelity's Capital Markets, Trading & Brokerage Services, Product & Business Enablement, Wealth Management Services, and Wealth Advisory Managed Solutions businesses. The team is accountable for the strategy and operations of an expanding set of solutions and technologies that evolve to meet clients' rapidly evolving needs.

Prior to assuming his current position, Mr. McEachern served as the chief technology officer for Fidelity Digital Assets, where he oversaw the strategic direction, development, and growth of the Fidelity Digital Assets technology organization. Since joining Fidelity in 2001, he has had various roles in engineering, architecture, and technology leadership.

Mr. McEachern received a bachelor of science degree in economics and finance from Bentley University. He received a master of science in computer information systems from Bentley University-McCallum Graduate School of Business.
