

Plan now for health care costs in retirement

With health care spending projected to grow 5.6%¹ annually, health care costs remain one of the largest threats to retirement savings. Consider making health care a critical part of your retirement income plan.

Gain a better understanding of:

- Coverage options, including Medicare
- Health care costs in retirement
- Steps you can take to develop a plan with your financial representative

Join us for a seminar

Date:

Time:

Location:

Host(s):

Guest speaker(s):

RSVP:

Additional information:

$330,000

Out-of-pocket health care expense estimate for a 65-year-old couple.²

Not FDIC Insured • May Lose Value • No Bank Guarantee

For investors.

Unless otherwise expressly disclosed to you in writing, the information provided in this material is for educational purposes only. Any viewpoints expressed by Fidelity are not intended to be used as a primary basis for your investment decisions and are based on facts and circumstances at the point in time they are made and are not particular to you. Accordingly, nothing in this material constitutes impartial investment advice or advice in a fiduciary capacity, as defined or under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 or the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, both as amended. Fidelity and its representatives may have a conflict of interest in the products or services mentioned in this material because they have a financial interest in the products or services and may receive compensation, directly or indirectly, in connection with the management, distribution, and/or servicing of these products or services, including Fidelity funds, certain third-party funds and products, and certain investment services. Before making any investment decisions, you should take into account all of the particular facts and circumstances of your or your client's individual situation and reach out to an investment professional, if applicable.

The views and opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the or any affiliates.

• This seminar is sponsored and financially supported by Fidelity Investments. • This educational event is not affiliated with any employer or Fidelity-managed workplace retirement plan.

1. Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Studies, National Health Expenditures Projections, 2023–2032. 2. The 2024 Retiree Health Care Cost estimate is based on a single person retiring in 2024, 65-years-old, with life expectancies that align with Society of Actuaries' RP-2014 Healthy Annuitant rates projected with Mortality Improvements Scale MP-2021 as of 2022. Actual assets needed may be more or less depending on actual health status, area of residence, and longevity. Estimate is net of taxes. The Fidelity Retiree Health Care Cost Estimate assumes individuals do not have employer-provided retiree health care coverage, but do qualify for the federal government's insurance program, original Medicare. This calculation takes into account Medicare Part B base premiums and cost-sharing provisions (such as deductibles and coinsurance) associated with Medicare Part A and Part B (inpatient and outpatient medical insurance). It also considers Medicare Part D (prescription drug coverage) premiums and out-of-pocket costs, as well as certain services excluded by original Medicare. This estimate does not include other health-related expenses, such as over-the-counter medications, most dental services and longterm care.

Fidelity Investments® provides investment products through Fidelity Distributors Company LLC; clearing, custody, or other brokerage services through National Financial Services LLC or Fidelity Brokerage Services LLC (Members NYSE, SIPC); and institutional advisory services through Fidelity Institutional Wealth Adviser LLC.